MEMORIES OF A BOY

The day was bright and shiny,
The flowers were all in bloom,
For it was in the Summer,
In the sunny month of June.
Two boys sat by the roadside,
Their faces all a'grin,
Thinking of the water in the pond,
Where they went used to swim.
Happy days of childhood,
That we all love so dear.

With us from year to year.

Fred G. Baker of the Norway Farmers' Exchange, wants No. 1 eggs and other farm products. Look up his ad in his paper. This is the latest organization in town.

Senator Waldo N. Searcy of Lovell has introduced a bill in the Legislature. It is an act relative to construction and maintenance of highways and carries the emergency clause. The bill provides a new distribution of road funds.

It will soon be time to place those Spring ads in the Intelligence column of this paper. There are a number there now. Look it over and bear in mind that it will bring you good results. It has for others and will for you. See ad blank on page six.

Of late we have not printed in the Advertiser articles signed "A Tax Paying" or signed by some such signature. We are glad to have your articles expressing your views on town affairs, etc. but insist that the name of the writer of same appears with the article. It is only fair to our readers, to the writer and to ourselves, that it should be that way.

One day last week Game Warden French reported finding three dead porcupines. The birds flew through the porcupine in the enclosure. Each season he finds more or less killed that way. He is of the opinion screens should be taken off porches when the camps are closed for the winter.

Mother Thayer—Mrs. N. N. Thayer of Boston, writes:

"If I can put the Coburn car out of commission this Spring, as I did last year, I hope you will help me out as splendidly as you did when I have been in as good a car since. Keep the payments up on it till I get one more ride in it."

William Langhlin, Andover Guide, who is stopping at the Tavern in Lewiston this winter, recently sent in a photograph of the South Arm Hotel of fifty years ago. It was of the days when Mother Sessions and "Pen" entertained.

Three kittens, mink, big fish and good cheer plenty. "To-day on the water" make the Lake road. Dinner, with tea and coffee, and other good things, was always waiting.

W. R. French, game warden, recently discovered a "marker." It was a wooden cross, bearing an inscription: "The Home and Grave of a Good Toad." It was erected near the summer home of F. G. Sanford, a naturalist, on the west shore of Bear Pond, in Waterford, local ly known as "Sandy's Place." The owner comes from New Jersey and is a teacher of nature to a select party of boys, in vacation time.

The world is said to be excited over a new science described with the new word, Technocracy. Our technocrat knits while arguing, so certain is he that all men must return to knitting their own socks, raising their own food, carrying their own water from the spring, etc. The excitement is confined to the literary world; I have not heard the word mentioned among the common people, with whom I associate."

—E. W. Hove.

Don C. Seitz, New York, writes:

"Thanks for the Conway paper. It interested me very much. I am particularly interested in the note in the paper about the raising of the fifteen million dollar relief fund in New York. Up in North Conway, New Hampshire, where the thermometer was below zero, James L. Gibson, his father, is selling coal for $16 a ton to the shivering peasants. They are a good deal apart in the world. I wonder how the Reporter lives. It is a good sign in the new government; the old one is going out in confusion, as might well be expected. Has been a bit cool; got down to 13 above yesterday. At a reception of the Pen and Brush Club Sunday evening to celebrate Leo M. Tarbell's twentieth year as president thereof, I met that grand-niece of Benson Hawkins, who used to visit Norway when she was a snappy little girl and played with my sister. She was there a few hours last summer, but could find no one she knew, Izah Sanborn having gone on a picnic, which she thought was a pretty gay performance; and Agnes Deal in Portland."

Crackednocracy, Currency and their Workings

By R. L. Cummings of West Paris

With a little examination, that new thing called itself Technocracy seems to be you only a "Tory" for burning and no hammer for building. If they have no hammer for building they have even less use than Mr. Scott for his hammer. The public attention to a very important subject; that is, modern machinery, production and consumption.

Here we are, in a country with the greatest natural resources of any spot on earth, with the best form of government ever set in operation, with modern machinery that has multiplied the productive power of nature more than ten fold. We have the machinery, the ability, the man-power and the desire and disposition to possess all these wonderful things that man and the earth are capable of producing for supplying all reasonable wants in comfort, necessities and luxuries, and here we are with eleven to twelve million people out of employment, with thirty million people in danger of losing food and shelter, with thousands of life-hungry women past the meridian of life huddling themselves in the graves in an attempt to pay taxes and supply food and shelter for those that cannot provide for themselves. Why use your torch to burn the false structure of Mr. Scott, instead of using a hammer to build a structure that shall remedy this situation that is as destructive as an invading army. Do you say we have no facility in that kind? Then I say "Take our thanks and thyself away."

Our trouble is we have chosen men to represent us in making our laws and enforcing them that are more dumb than the general public, or are influenced by forces prejudicial to the public welfare. We lack nothing in the means of producing all desirable things and our knowledge of how to harness the forces of nature for ever greater conveniences and luxuries increases constantly.

What we lack is the means of exchanging our products for the what we need of our necessities. To-day in the United States, private individuals are making what some call wooden money or credit slips so that any laborer who can work can get these wooden dollars and exchange them at their store for the goods that they want and the store and the change them to the farmer for his produce. So it goes through ten or twenty hands and comes back to its starting point. It has simply acted as a medium of exchange. Each man takes what he needs for the goods that he needed and disposed of the goods he produced but did not need for his own use. There seems to be a lot of our "Statesmen" who did for them.

I will give one illustration of present tendencies. This is not from Mr. Scott but from the official Federal reports. In 1929 industries upon which 40 per cent of our wages depend for a living employed 900,000 fewer workers than in 1919 and produced practically 50 per cent more goods. Such tendencies as this, with the skimming process that has been perpetuated upon farmer and wage workers, have produced their unavoidable result, and they have bagged the goods don't want any change in the rules that will interfere with the further concentration of wealth in their hands. If we talk about raising the income tax to pay time when they holler that we are "Soaking" the rich and if we don't stop, the poor rich people will disappear. What a terrible thing it would be if they were taxed all income in excess of $100,000 a year provided their millions and billions of wealth was left in their hands all untouched. What ocean of sympathy would be extended them if they were unable to add more than $50,000 a year to their mountainous wealth.

As we have seen men go to Washington that shed those "Crocodile" tears but have no time to think or act for the millions that are fighting against cold and hunger. There is as much currency in the country as in 1929 but it is not in the hands of those that need to spend it for the common necessities of life.

Today $1.00 in gold will purchase about three times the products that it would in 1929 and these farm products are the vital necessities upon which man must exist, are produced and sold by the farmer for less than one half their cost of production. This is a law, working all unobserved by our "statesmen" that dollar where they ought to have three, being able to get enough of the farmer's goods with his one dollar to keep him from starvation, and the farmer takes the half the cost of production. Neither the farmer or the wage earner can much longer beat off the rain that fact, all of us.

We have in the federal treasury nearly $5,000,000,000 in gold valued at $20. As money. That price was arbitrarily fixed by the Federal Reserve Board and will be to revalue this gold at $41.34 an ounce and issue the additional currency where it will stop this destruction that confronts us while it can be done without open revolt.

Of course our great International bankers, led on by the house of Morgan would shout in holy horror at any measure that would reduce their strangle hold on the finances of this country. What have they been doing to the American public?

They have been selling for the sake of the profit there was in the transaction to themselves over $15,000,000,000 of foreign bonds to-day are not worth 50 cents on the dollar. They took these bonds and sold them out to the public. "Thus the Morgan Company listed gross profits of $10,883,626" and my recollection is that one N. Y. banking house on the investigation showed a profit of over $13,000,000 and when asked how many of those bonds they then held, it was found that they did not hold one dollar of them. They only sold them to the public.

Are we not justified in being suspicious of anything these people offer us?

Nevertheless, Ogden Mills, of J. P. Morgan & Co., one of the leading representatives of the International Bankers was appointed Secretary of the Treasury to succeed the ailing Andrew Mellon.

Mr. Mills' treasury department, according to report just returned to his father's estate $6,000,000 refund on income taxes.

Some of our daily papers in this state give great space to the writings of Mark Sullivan, who in a very able and adroit manner constantly argues for the things that these great financial interests want to put over on the public, and give no space for articles that would show the folly of his argument.

- Questions:
1. Is there really a tree called the arch?
 2. Can a fly hear?
 3. How many legs has a centipede?
 4. Why are these little white caps on telegraph poles?
 5. Does a diver have lead on his boots?
 6. Can silk, made by a spider, be made into cloth?
- ANSWERS:
1. Yes, indeed. It is a mountain tree and sometimes grows as high as one hundred and fifty feet. The wood is excellent for telegraph poles.
 2. No. Most of the smaller insects are deaf. Many experiments have been made with all kinds of sounds but apparently the insects do not notice them.
 3. Some have only fifteen pairs, some over a hundred. The number of pairs, however, is never even. Always odd like fifteen, twenty-three, ninety-nine or one hundred and one.
 4. These keep the electric current from escaping down the poles into the earth. They are made of earthenware and are called insulators.
 5. Yes, he does. This is so that he will be certain to sink feet down. The metal on his helmet might otherwise make him sink lead first.
 6. Yes, but spiders are very expensive and hard to raise. Because they eat each other up, they have to be kept in separate enclosures and besides that it is difficult to harvest the silk from the tangled web.
- RIDDLES
1. What is the coldest row in the theatre?
 2. Why is a rabbit's nose always shiny?
 3. What wassie flower is the name of two dairy products?
 4. Why is it impossible to get down from an elephant's back?
 5. What has four legs, two eyes and two ears and can jump as high as a Waverley building?
 6. Why does the president wear white suspenders?
 7. I've seen you where you never was and where you'll never be, but just the same at any rate, you've been seen there by me.
 8. Which side of the pitcher is the handle on?
 9. Why does the hen cross the road?
 10. If the President and Vice President both died, who would have the job?
 11. A hill full and a hole full, you can't catch a bowl full.
 12. Up on the hill there is a school in the school, there is a desk on the desk, there is a bell. What is the name of the teacher?
 13. How did the Irishman get drowned in the black sea?
 14. What is the longest word in the English language?
 15. What relation is the door mat to the door?
 16. When did Moses sleep with five in a bed?
 17. What hen lays the longest?
 18. What goes round the house and round the house and never makes but one track?

MEMORIES OF A BOY
The day was bright and shiny.
The flowers were all in bloom.
For it was in the Summer,
For the merry month of June.
Two boys sat by the roadside,
Their faces all a grin,
Thinking of the water in the pond,
Where they went to swim.
Happy days of childhood,
That we all love so dear,
The memory of it all,
With us from year to year.
—JOHN P. CULLENAN.

NORTH BRIDGTON
Concord, Mass., correspondence of the Boston Globe reports that Frederick M. Ellis, popularly known as "Fish" Ellis, who, a few years ago, was the star captain of the Tufts College football eleven, and Mrs. Ellis, formerly Miss Dorothy M. Ellis was now teacher-coach at Bridgton Academy. Mrs. Ellis is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward F. Loughlin of 371 Main Street, West Concord.

ALBANY
This community was much saddened by the sudden death of Mrs. Edwina Kimball, wife of James Kimball. She has been a lifelong resident of this town. Funeral services were held Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock.
Silas Littlehale, who has been at Floyd Kimball's the past few weeks, has returned to his home at Bryant Pond.
Raymond Barker has returned to Zenas Mills', after working at E. O. Donahue's the past month.
Mrs. George Brown of West Bethel is staying at Floyd Kimball's.

Heard and Seen at Advertiser Office

H. Arthur Robbins will be a candidate for re-election for Selectman at the annual town meeting. See ad.

A bill before the legislature, "To see if women shall pay a poll tax." Is there any sense or good reason why they should not? We'd like to know.

The Houlton Pioneer-Times has got big and mighty since the combine and cut from exchange. Sorry, but will have to get on without it.

Fred G. Baker of the Norway Farmers' Exchange, wants No. 1 eggs and other farm products. Look up his ad in his paper. This is the latest organization in town.

Senator Waldo N. Seavey of Lovell has introduced a bill in the Legislature. It is an act relative to construction and maintenance of highways and carries the emergency clause. The bill provides a new distribution of road funds.

It will soon be time to place those Spring ads in the Intelligence column of this paper. There are a number there now. Look it over and bear in mind that it will bring you good results—it has for others and will for you. See ad blank on page six.

Of late we have not printed in the Advertiser articles signed "A Tax Payer," or signed by some other signature. We are glad to have your articles expressing your views on town affairs, etc. but insist that the name of the writer of same appears with the article. It is only fair to our readers, to the writer and to ourselves, that it should be that way.

One day last week Game Warden French reported finding three dead partridges. The birds lie through the porch screens to camps and starved to death in the enclosure. Each season he finds more or less killed that way. He is of the opinion screens should be taken off porches when the camps are closed for the winter.

Mother Thayer—Mrs. N. N. Thayer of Boston, writes:
"If I can put the Coburn car out of commission this Spring, as I did last year, I hope you will help me out as splendidly as you did when Haven's been in as good a car since. Keep the payments up on it till I get one more ride in it."

William Langhlin, Andover Guide, who is stopping at the Tavern in Lewiston this winter, recently sent in a photograph of the South Arm Hotel of fifty years ago. It was of the days when Mother Sessions and "Penn" entertained.

Cats, kittens, mink, big fish and good cheer plenty. It took four hours "make" the Lake road. Dinner, with tea and coffee, and other good things, was always waiting.

W. R. French, game warden, recently discovered a "marker." It was a wooden cross, bearing an inscription: "The Home and Grave of a Good Todd." It was erected near the summer home of B. G. Sanford, a naturalist, on the west shore of Bear Pond, in Waterford, locally known as "Sandy's Place." The owner comes from New Jersey and is a teacher of nature to a select party of boys, in vacation time.

The world is said to be excited over a new science described with the word Technocracy. One technocrat knits while arguing, so certain is he that all men must return to knitting their own socks, raising their own food, carrying their own water from the spring, etc. The excitement is confined to the literary world; I have not heard the word mentioned among the common people with whom I associate.

Don C. Seitz, New York, writes: "Thanks for the Conway paper. It interested me very much. I note in particular: Harvey D. Gibson has attended to the raising of the fifteen million dollar relief fund in New York. Up in North Conway, where the thermometer is mostly below zero, James L. Gibson, his father, is selling coal for $16 a ton to the shivering peasantry. They are a good deal apart in the world. I wonder how the Reporter lives. It is a good shot."

"Small interest in the new government; the old one is going out in confusion, as might well be expected. Has been a bit cool; got down to 13 above yesterday. As a reception of the new government, I have not heard the word mentioned among the common people with whom I associate."

Rev. B. F. Wentworth is continuing his pastoral work, having recovered from a severe attack of flu.

Mrs. Mary Ingerson and daughter are spending the winter with Orman Spring. Rev. Moses Bailey, a professor of Old Testament in Hartford Theological Seminary, spoke here on a recent date.

John Gillis, who has been a frequent visitor, is ill at Machias, where he is a member of the senior class in the Normal School.

Mrs. and Mrs. Irving Rankin went to Denmark, Tuesday, to attend the funeral of Mrs. Thomas.

Crackednocracy, Currency and their Workings

By R. L. Cummings of West Paris

With a little examination, that new thing calling itself Technocracy seems to be but another example of man of unbalanced mind, taking facts and ideas that are apparent to all people capable of thinking to a purpose, and so exaggerating and distorting them that the truths they contain may be discredited.

It could well be said that if Mr. Scott should publish his own views and call it "Crackednocracy" it would be more appropriate. But to the critics I would say: "Produce, produce, produce!" for burning and no hammer for building? If they have no hammer for building they are even of less use than Mr. Scott for he has turned the public attention to a very important subject; that is, modern machinery, the machinery, the ability, the man-power and the desire and disposition to possess all these wonderful things that man and the earth are capable of producing, for supplying all reasonable wants in comfort, necessities and luxuries, and here we are with eleven to twelve million people out of employment, with thirty million people in danger of losing food and shelter, with thousands of life hunting themselves, their graves in an attempt to pay taxes and supply food and shelter for those that cannot provide for themselves. Why use your power to burn the false structure of Mr. Scott, instead of using a hammer to build a structure that shall remedy this situation that is as destructive as an invading army. Do you say we have no facility in that kind? Then I say "Take our thanks and thank yourself away."

Our trouble is we have chosen men to represent us in making our laws and enforcing them that are more dumb than the general public, or are influenced by forces prejudicial to the public welfare.

What we lack is the means of exchanging. To-day in the means of producing all desirable things and our knowledge of how to harness the forces of nature for ever greater conveniences and luxuries increases constantly.

OXFORD COUNTY UNITED PARISH

Plans for Winter Carnival—Church Attendance Good.

The eighth winter carnival under the auspices of the Oxford County United Parish will be held on Saturday, Feb. 18, at North Waterford. A full schedule is planned for the day, beginning with the first sports event at 10 o'clock in the morning and ending with the awarding of prizes and the Carnival Play "The People of North Waterford" in the evening. The people of North Waterford came near setting a parish record for attendance at the regular Sunday morning church service when they turned out in force for the carnival. You had better plan to join with them in their worship and hear Mr. Palmer speak next Sunday. Thirty-two were out to the schoolhouse service at East Waterford last Sunday afternoon, which is a good record for that small community.

There will be a young people's social at the North Waterford vestry on Friday evening of this week. All are welcome. Following the Circle at East Stoneham last Thursday, a number of the men came to the church for the evening. The boys and some of the ladies spent the evening at the church vestry, playing games. The baseball board was the main attraction and judging from the laughter and excitement all had a fine evening. About twenty-five were present for the games.

SOUTH WATERFORD

Mrs. Alfretta Abbott

Mrs. Alfretta Lebroke Abbott passed away at her home in South Waterford on Monday morning, January 16, at 6:30. Although in failing health for several weeks, she was able to be about the house until her fall a week before her death.

She was given the tenderest care provided by her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Willard W. Abbott during her last illness.

Mrs. Abbott was the daughter of Daniel and Nancy Lebroke. She was born in North Waterford on August 5, 1852. On March 26, 1871 she and Sewell H. Abbott were united in marriage by Rev. John Douglas, then the pastor of the Waterford Congregational Church. Their early married life was spent in Albany where their daughter and son were born. After leaving Albany they lived in Fryeburg and North Waterford for short periods of time. Then they moved to the farm on Plummer Hill, above Waterford Village where a good many years of her life were spent. Mr. Abbott died several years ago, and she always made her home with the son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Willard W. Abbott.

About sixteen years ago the Abbotts moved to South Waterford. Soon after coming here, Mrs. Abbott had a fall, receiving a bad fracture of her hip. This infirmity kept her closely at home and ever after this accident she was forced to use a crutch most of the time in the house and always in the yard. Nevertheless she did a great deal of work about the house all these years. Previous to this accident, even in her busy days at the farm she found time to go about the country-side helping in sickness, sorrow and death.

Many are the neighbors and friends who have felt her gentle touch and heard kind encouraging words in hours of pain and grief. Her greatest happiness came when she was helping to carry another's burden and sharing her many gifts with those less fortunate.

She was a great lover of children, flowers, birds and books. Even during these "sick-in" years she has carried on her Master's service to the four-score years. It has been an inspiration to all who have known her to just see her conquer the pain and the great grief that entered her life within the last few months with a courageous word and cheery smile. She was eagerly waiting for the gates of the Great Beyond to swing open and admit her where she would again be with her dear ones gone before. Her going has been taken from the Abbott family three of its number within fourteen months. May the Heavenly Father be very close to Mrs. Willard W. Abbott in her many sad and lonely hours, also with the grand-daughter, Dorothy.

She leaves to mourn her passing, one brother, Samuel Lebroke of Bismectown, the last member of a large family, a grand-daughter, Dorothy A. Holden, her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Willard W. Abbott, several nieces and nephews and a large circle of neighbors and friends.

The funeral was held on Wednesday afternoon, January 18th, at 2 o'clock in the Abbott home. Rev. W. I. Bull, attending. The bearers were Henry S. Haynes, Will J. Greene, L. R. Rounds and W. W. Fillebrown. Many and beautiful were the floral pieces, silently speaking of the love and esteem felt for this dear, old lady. Many of the cut flowers were sent to the sick and the aged who would be her wish. She was laid to rest in the family lot in Elm Vale cemetery.

OF FAT

Miss M. Kather of Brooklyn, N. Y., writes: "I've used Kruschen for the past 4 months and have not only lost 35 pounds but feel so much better in every way. Even for people who don't care to reduce, Kruschen is wonderful to keep the system healthy. I being a nurse should know for I've tried so many things but only Kruschen answered all my purposes." (May 12, 1932).

To lose fat SAFELY and HARMLESSLY, take a half teaspoonful of Kruschen in a glass of hot water before breakfast—don't take a morning—a bottle that lasts 4 weeks costs but a trifle—but don't take chances—be sure it's Kruschen—your health comes first—get it at Ashton's Drug Store or any drug store in America.
